Welcome to the Fermanagh Lakelands

Make Your Island Discovery

With fresh air and green fields in abundance, teamed with quality accommodation and plenty to see and do, Fermanagh is the perfect destination to make memories that will last forever.

For those of you who just want to spend some time in our glorious county taking in the sites on foot, by bicycle or car, the county is steeped in history and heritage sites which are off the beaten track giving you time to explore the traditions that lie within. From castles to pre-historic monuments and mountain tombs this magical county is just waiting to be discovered.

Scenic routes through lake shore countryside and rugged mountain terrains offer walking and cycling enthusiasts the perfect way to see the natural Irish countryside at its best. Not known for its busy roads or bustling sidewalks, when visiting Fermanagh the easy going way of the local people gives visitors the chance to mingle and get an insight into the Irish way of life. The warm welcome that Irish people are renowned has not escaped our Lakeland County! One of the best ways to explore the Lakelands is definitely by water.

Fermanagh Lakelands is the perfect environment for a boating holiday. With several on shore boat hire companies no specialist knowledge is required, just a good sense of adventure! This is the perfect way to explore the waters of Lough Erne and the surrounding Fermanagh countryside.

Or if you’d prefer a more relaxing way to experience the beauty of the area then hop aboard a guided boat tour. All you have to do is sit back and relax while the insightful guide’s commentary brings life to the picturesque landscape and historic monuments which can be seen. Because of the vast expanse of water Fermanagh Lakelands is a perfect location for all sorts of water sports. Fermanagh has a number of top-class activity centres accommodating groups, families and children which offer summer programmes and activities at great value. With so many wonderful scenic routes and viewpoints Fermanagh is picture perfect – take your memories back home to show your friends by capturing the beauty of the Lakelands on camera or canvas.

So whether you’re an activity enthusiast with an urge to find a new adrenaline rush or someone who prefers a relaxing trip down the lake – it’s all here.
Marble Arch Caves UNESCO Global Geopark

Marble Arch Caves UNESCO Global Geopark is located in the rugged mountainous uplands and gently rolling lowlands of Counties Fermanagh and Cavan.

Taking in the world famous Marble Arch Caves, Cuilcagh Mountain and the Cavan Burren Park, the Geopark contains some of the finest natural landscapes on the island of Ireland and offers a window into the area's 895 million year past. The Marble Arch Caves UNESCO Global Geopark was one of the first eight Geoparks to be recognised in the world by UNESCO (the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organisation) when they launched their Geoparks initiative in 2001. Since then, the Geopark has gone through a number of expansions; in 2007 the Geopark was expanded into the public lands in west Fermanagh and in 2008 into west Cavan, when it became the first cross border Geopark anywhere in the world.

Within the Geopark, there's plenty to suit all ages and abilities; whether you fancy a quiet stroll on a leafy woodland path or a strenuous hike over high hills, or if you're a dedicated cave explorer or an intrepid rock climber, a novice canoeist or an expert bird watcher – there is something for everyone.

Stand at one of Ireland's best viewpoints at the Magho Cliffs in the Lough Navar Forest or discover the pre-historic monuments in the Cavan Burren Park.

Why not take time to stroll along the shores of Lough Erne at Castle Caldwell or to see the source of Ireland's mighty River Shannon where it wells up from deep, hidden caves at the Shannon Pot.
Discover magical moments in one of Europe's finest show caves. Set in the heart of the Marble Arch Caves UNESCO Global Geopark, the Marble Arch Caves pay homage to the fascinating secrets of a world of subterranean rivers, winding passages, lofty chambers and an array of delicate cave formations.

A carefully constructed path enables you to comfortably traverse the Marble Arch Caves whilst discrete lighting displays the cave features and delicate cave formations to their optimum. Our expert and enthusiastic guides will lead you through awe-inspiring passages and further enhance your experience by interpreting the stories of this wonderous show cave.

Our Visitor Centre provides you with the opportunity to explore the informative exhibition area, watch the audio-visual video, browse the souvenir shop or recharge your batteries in the Marble Arch Cafe before taking a leisurely walk through the Cladagh Glen Nature Reserve.

For further information on planning your visit, opening times, cave tours, admission prices and local attractions please visit our website.
Geopark
Sites

A spectacular forest across 2600 hectares of bog, heath, woodland and open water - dominated by coniferous woodland containing pockets of ancient native woodland. The area boasts a rich natural, geological and archaeological heritage. A network of walking and cycling routes of varying lengths and a 7 mile scenic drive ensure there is something for everyone. The jewel is undoubtedly the 300m high Magho Cliffs which command immense views over counties Fermanagh, Tyrone, Sligo and Donegal.

Car Parking; Fishing Stands; Interpretation; Toilets; Picnic Areas; Walking; Viewpoint; Cycling

Cavan Burren Park is a unique landscape of geological and archaeological features in a natural setting. Whether it’s the stunning scenery, intriguing visitor centre, perfectly preserved glacial erratics, spectacular prehistoric graves, bog-bridge walking trails or water worn limestone pavement, a visit to Cavan Burren Park is an opportunity to experience a vast world of natural and man-made history.

Coach/Car Parking; Toilets; Picnic Area; Interpretation; Multi-Access Trail; Walking; Viewpoint
This route is a difficult mountain walk consisting of gravel farm track, wooden boardwalk and wooden steps which lead you to a viewing platform along the plateau of Cuilcagh Mountain and reward you with stunning views of the surrounding landscape. www.marblearchcaves.co.uk

- Route Details:
  - Length: 12km (6km linear route)
  - Time: 4-5 hours
  - Facilities: Car-Parking; Interpretation; Walking; Viewpoint

Nestled on the shores of Lower Lough Erne, 250 hectares of delightful mixed deciduous and coniferous woodland harbours an abundance of wildlife and interesting history dating back to the 17th Century. An intricate network of waymarked trails meander through the scenic woodland, including a multi-access trail, enabling this pretty site to be explored by all.

- Route Details:
  - Length: 2km (Longer Trails Available)
  - Time: 40 minutes
  - Facilities: Car Parking; Picnic Area; Interpretation; Multi-Access Trail; Walking; Fishing Stands; Viewpoint; Boat Jetty

The highlight of this moderate route tracing forestry tracks is undoubtedly Pollnagollum Cave which features in the popular TV series Game of Thrones®. A viewing platform provides a vantage point into the impressive cave entrance which is fed by a beautifully cascading waterfall toppling over a 12m limestone cliff.

- Route Details:
  - Length: 7km
  - Time: 2 hours
  - Facilities: Interpretation, Car Parking

A pretty peninsula of mixed forest and a birdwatcher’s paradise. The waymarked trails meander around a fascinating collection of remnants of the estate including the ruined house, intriguing Fiddler’s Stone and unrivalled limestone kiln. The geology of the Castle Caldwell Estate is responsible for the location of the nearby Belleek Pottery.

- Route Details:
  - Length: 4km (Shorter Trails Available)
  - Time: 1.5 hours
  - Facilities: Car Parking; Picnic Area; Interpretation; Walking; Boat Jetty; Bird Hides

Within the Geopark we strive to offer accessibility to as many visitors as possible, but due to the rugged outdoor terrain at many Geopark sites, this isn’t always possible.

At Cavan Burren Park and Ely Lodge Forest we are proud to boast two fully accessible waymarked trails.
When you are out and about exploring in the Geopark please be mindful of our Geopark Code

1 PREPARATION IS KEY - The weather in the Geopark can change in the blink of an eye so make sure to take warm, waterproof clothing, sturdy footwear and something to eat and drink.

2 TAKE YOUR LITTER HOME - Litter not only looks awful but can be eaten by wildlife, livestock and can end up in our waterways, so please help the environment by leaving only footprints.

3 KEEP TO THE TRAIL - There are important habitats which are very sensitive to footsteps so help conserve them by staying on waymarked trails and keep yourself safe by steering clear of cliffs, bog holes and uneven terrain.

4 LEAVE WHAT YOU FIND - Many of the species and formations in the Geopark are rare and important so please take only pictures of these remarkable landscapes.

5 RESPECT OTHERS - Many people work and live within the Geopark, so help them out by refraining from blocking gates, damaging fences and please respect livestock.

6 MINIMISE FIRE RISK - Uncontrolled fires can destroy hundreds of acres of habitat which take years to recover. Help prevent this by not throwing cigarette ends or glass/plastic bottles away which can cause ignition.

Geopark Events

An on-going programme of events takes place in the Geopark, where people can explore our landscapes and enjoy the wonders of the natural environment. Fossil fun days, heritage trails, guided walks and scavenger hunts are examples of some of the activities taking place in the Geopark.

The Geopark offers a comprehensive education programme throughout the year. Curriculum linked programmes are offered for primary, post-primary and tertiary levels.

Geopark staff members also carry out visits to schools and organise special educational events at various times throughout the year. For more information about the Marble Arch Caves UNESCO Global Geopark and what it has to offer please contact

Boa Island | Kesh | Enniskillen

This very well-known stone figure has been sitting in the rural graveyard at Caldragh, in Dreenan, on Boa Island since at least 1841. For many years the scholarly opinion was that it belonged to the pagan Iron Age. The statue has often been described, wrongly, as a Janus figure – Janus being a Roman god who could look in many directions. But this is not a figure with two faces but two complete, more or less identical, figures placed back to back. It likely represents an unpleasant and frightening figure of mythology and folk-lore, identifying with the war-goddess Badhbh – the hooded crow. This view, based on the appearance of the figures, is given extra credibility by the fact that the name Boa island comes from the Irish Inis Badhbha – “Badhbh’s island”.

Here you can browse an extensive range of local and family history publications, graveyard inscriptions, some church records and details of what life in Fermanagh was like before your ancestors left. Ordnance survey maps can also be seen here as well as microfilm of local newspapers going back to the early 1800s, which can be an important source especially if you have knowledge of significant dates. The staff are helpful and knowledgeable, having dealt with thousands of enquiries throughout the years. If they don’t know the answer they probably know of someone who can provide the answer. 1. Enniskillen and Omagh have retained the prestigious Purple Flag status in recognition of the towns thriving evening and night-time economy.

2. Purple Flag, similar to the Blue Flag for beaches, is an international award to raise the standards and broaden the appeal of town and city centres from early evening until late.

3. Purple Flag is an accreditation process run by the Association of Town and City Management (ATCM) and is the benchmark for good night time destinations. Areas awarded with a Purple Flag are recognised for providing a diverse and vibrant mix of dining, entertainment and culture while promoting the safety and well-being of visitors and local residents. To put it more simply, Purple Flag status indicates where to go for a good night out! This is not just for pubs and clubs but for a wide range of activities including arts and culture, leisure, eating out and events.

4. It’s not difficult to see why Enniskillen and Omagh town centres tick all the boxes with a growing number of restaurants, cafes and attractions, plus major cultural events attracting visitors and residents of all ages.

5. A number of local agencies and organisations including the PSNI, Fermanagh and Omagh Policing and Community Safety Partnership and representatives from the business, community and voluntary sector sit on Fermanagh and Omagh District Council’s Purple Flag working groups to ensure that both towns continue to provide great entertainment, exceptional hospitality and a safe night out for visitors.

6. In Northern Ireland there are only five towns and cities that have Purple Flag status. The fact that two of these are in the Fermanagh and Omagh District is a fantastic achievement. The others are Armagh, Derry/Londonderry and Newry. For further information about the coveted award, visit www.atcm.org/purple-flag.

Angling

“The Fermanagh Lakelands is a haven for anglers with its abundance of loughs and rivers.”

Our waters offer game anglers the opportunity to fish for salmon as well as stocked rainbow and brown trout. The famous Sonaghan, Ferox and Gillaroo can also be found in these diverse waters.

The Coarse angler will find some of the finest fishing available in Europe, with bream, roach and hybrids in abundance as well as perch and tench.

Add to this pike fishing that is second to none -whether seeking to catch them on fly or in a more traditional manner and the region offers all anglers wonderful opportunities.

There is no closed season for the coarse angler as Lough Erne and many still waters are open all year round. There are many popular loughs, rivers and fisheries that are easily accessed by visitors. Lough Erne & Lough Melvin being the more well known.

Lough Erne

Lough Erne is made up of the Upper Lough east of Enniskillen and the Lower Lough which runs west to Belleek. The Lough is a mixed coarse and game fishery. The game angling, in the main, takes place on the Lower Lough although trout are found throughout the system.

The Lower Lough is a large expanse of water, over 15 miles long with numerous islands and bays. These provide vast areas of shallow water and rocky shores making for ideal fishing grounds. Although a limited number of salmon run the Lough wild brown trout are the quarry and the Lough holds an excellent head of fish.

Lough Melvin

Sitting on the western end of Co. Fermanagh this is one of Ireland’s most famous Loughs. It is home to three distinct species of trout - the magic Sonaghan, the Gillaroo and the Ferox - as well as enjoying a run of spring salmon and grilse.

Fishing starts in February with the arrival of the first salmon and continues through the months with grilse from May to July and wonderful trout fishing throughout the season. Trolling is the most used method for the springers but fly fishing for the Sonaghan and Gillaroo, as well as the Grilse, is excellent.
Belle Isle Estate and Private Island is the perfect place to spend time away from the rest of the world on an angling break. Tucked away on the shores of Upper Lough Erne this island fishing retreat offers you luxurious 4* self catering accommodation in our courtyard, coach houses and cottages. Angling guests are welcome to pre-book our estate guide, boats and we can even help arrange the necessary license for you. Pike fishing is most popular and if you are interested in predator fishing we have the best waters to fish in. After a day on the Lough, why not enjoy dinner at Belle Isle Bistro which is just minutes from your accommodation or enjoy a pint in our fully licensed bar. We have special offers and packages available at www.pikeireland.com. To book email info@belle-isle.com or telephone 00442866387231.

Visit one of Ireland’s largest and best stocked fishing tackle shops, Fishing Tackle and Bait. Accurate advice and great deals on all your bait and tackle requirements as well as the latest information on the Fermanagh fishing hotspots. Guide Service Available.
